effortless and compelling brooks is a wonderful storyteller i doubt i will read a better book this year sunday telegraph each of vermeer s paintings tells a story in one a military officer leans toward a laughing girl in another a woman stands by a window and weighs silver in a third fruit spills from a porcelain bowl onto a lavish turkish carpet hiding in plain sight these details hint at the intricate threads that bound vermeer s world together the officer s hat is made from north american beaver bought with silver extracted from the mines of peru while beaver pelts were traded in their thousands for the chinese porcelain so beloved by the dutch in the golden age from a view of delft vermeer gives us the world as a new vermeer exhibition opens at the rijksmuseum the largest of its kind in history vermeer's hat offers a fascinating perspective on how the burgeoning forces of trade and commerce shaped vermeer's masterpieces vermeer's wager stands at the intersection of art history and criticism philosophy and museology using a familiar and celebrated painting by johannes vermeer as a case study ivan gaskell explores what it might mean to know and use a work of art he argues that art history as generally practiced while successfully asserting certain claims to knowledge fails to take into account aspects of the unique character of works of art our relationship to art is mediated not only through reproduction particularly photography but also through displays in museums in an analysis that ranges from seventeenth century holland through mid nineteenth century france to artists and curators practice today gaskell draws on his experience of dutch art history philosophy and contemporary art criticism anyone with an interest in vermeer and the afterlife of his art will value this book as will all who think seriously about the role of photography in perception and the core purposes of art museums the theme of writing and receiving letters a subject that recurs frequently in the work of johannes vermeer is given dramatic tension in three iconic paintings in which elegantly dressed women eagerly await correspondence subtly hinting at themes of love and longing centered on the motif of letter writing this book unites three iconic vermeer paintings mistress and maid the frick collection the love letter rijksmuseum and woman writing a letter with her maid national gallery of ireland delving into the enigmatic allure of the dutch painter's work vermeer's artistry is renowned for encapsulating moments of intrigue and intimacy amidst the domestic scenes of dutch life through masterful manipulation of light and perspective he imbues his paintings with symbolic depth exploring themes of communication secrecy and emotional connection through meticulous analysis this publication explores the profound thematic undercurrents binding these masterpieces shedding light on vermeer's legacy and his ability to capture moments of intimacy with unparalleled depth examining the implied and explicit meanings of the works the publication offers a scholarly dialogue between past and present interpretations questioning whether the works serve as complex allegories or straight forward depictions of dutch upper middle class life additionally other paintings by vermeer gerard ter borch gabriel metzu and rembrandt are explored addressing the relevance of their comparable images and offering a fresh perspective on the enduring relevance of vermeer's artistry
